Pagero signs major deal with Finnish HVAC & electricity wholesalers

Pagero Finland Oy has signed an agreement with Suomen LVIS-Tietoverkko Oy which is owned by the largest HVAC (heating, ventilation and air conditioning) & electricity wholesalers in Finland. Pagero Finland Oy will deliver e-invoice services to the owners of Suomen LVIS-Tietoverkko and integrate the LVISNet message transfer service into Pagero Online.

"We were searching for a solution that would bring the wholesalers and their customers closer together and into the future", says Jorma Häll, CEO, LVIS, Tietoverkko Oy. "We were ready to build this system from scratch, but it turned out that Pagero's solution already had all the advanced features that we needed. Other important criteria for the selection were flexibility and cost efficiency for both the wholesalers and their customers. It was also important that the solution had the capability of handling our increasing transaction volume."

"With our solution, we will fully digitalize the purchase-to-pay process between the wholesalers and their customers. It also streamlines communication between their customers and end customers. By packaging this service the customers have the possibility to do one-stop shopping for electronic business message transfer services", says Toni Pihamaa, CEO, Pagero Finland Oy. "I am very proud that Suomen LVIS-Tietoverkko Oy has chosen us as their service provider and I see it as a landmark for Pagero's establishment in Finland. The wholesalers will send millions of invoices annually and this is only the beginning as the trend is a significant increase in electronic message volumes in the business as a whole."
